

ASCRS Clinical Practice Guidelines: Chronic Radiation Proctitis

✘ Prophylactic measures are insufficiently described and not routinely recommended (1C)

Formalin installation is effective for bleeding (1B)

Sucalfate enemas are moderately effective for bleeding (1A)

✘ Short chain fatty acids are not effective (1B)

✘ Alternative Treatments are not recommended (mesalamine, ozone, metronidazole, bipolar, RFA, laser, cryotherapy) 1C

Argon plasma is effective for bleeding (1B)

DISEASES OF THE COLON & RECTUM

Paquette IM et al. Dis Colon Rectum 2018;61(10):755-74

